THE IODE IS HAPPY TO SUPPORT THE CHATHAM CAPITOL THEATRE

The Chatham Capitol Theatre is pleased to announce a generous $5,000 donation from the Captain Garnet Brackin chapter of the IODE. In recognition of this generous donation, the vestibule to the theatre store will bear the name of the IODE.

“A generous gift like this, further demonstrates the support of the community in relation to the Chatham Capitol Theatre,” said General Manager Dan Donaldson, “and will serve as an example to other service clubs in the community.”

The local IODE, whose mission is to help children, youth and those in need through educational and social service avenues, actively participate in events and projects that support local causes.

“Helping the community through projects such as the Chatham Capitol Theatre is an ongoing process for us,” said Marianne Johnstone, President of the Captain Garnet Brackin chapter of the IODE. “Some of the funds we donated to the Chatham Capitol Theatre came from our annual Christmas House Tour. This way people know that money that is being given to the community is actually being used for the good of the community.”

The formal cheque presentation took place at the Chatham Capitol Theatre on Friday, January 4th, 2008 at 11 a.m.
